

HOLIDAY MEMORIES

December 26, 2017

Just a quick note to say hello. I hope all is well. I'm going on four years living in NYC now but I've been out visiting my family in CT for the holidays these last two weeks. We were talking about old times with Betty, especially all of the holiday traditions she had at The Marvin. She always looked forward to the day the Christmas trees were decorated, the holiday concerts, the holiday party with the Norwalk Police and The Marvin's own holiday party. Of course there was also her annual tradition of sending me around to every drugstore to stockpile boxes of chocolate on sale so that she had a supply to hand out to everybody that helped her at home.

My mom mentioned the big grant you received to do some renovations throughout the building, that is very exciting news! I made a donation on your website today, I know every little bit helps and you always put the funds to good use.

Happy Holidays and Happy New Year!
